

CONGRATULATIONS!

VA ITSN Recognizes Infant and Toddler Providers

Each year, the VA ITSN recognizes child care providers across Virginia who have made great efforts to improve the quality of infant and toddler care. Virginia Infant and Toddler Specialists and Behavior Consultants nominate one child care center and one family day home from each of their regions. A pool of these nominations is submitted to the VA ITSN Leadership Council for review, and they select those to be recognized. In addition, the programs are provided with resources and materials to support their efforts.

Below are the names of the child care centers and family day homes selected for the 2022 - 2023 program year and pictures of some of the providers.

Congratulations to each of these programs, and thank you for continuing to promote excellence in care!

Resource Spotlight

As an early childhood caregiver, you may encounter parents who are curious about how their children learn and grow at various stages. The Sparks video series is a free resource for parents that combines health, safety, sleep, and nutrition concerns with practical approaches to support healthy learning and development in children.

A diverse team of clinicians and developmental experts collaborated to make this series. Each Sparks video goes hand-in-hand with a child's check-up from birth to age five and can help caregivers know what to expect in the next stage of child development. Check out their video series by visiting the Sparks website.

ZERO TO THREE
Early connections last a lifetime

Child care is an essential building block in the foundation of our families and nation's future. Early learning means children begin kindergarten ready to learn and succeed. Increasing access helps more babies and toddlers, including those with delays and disabilities, get the developmental support they need.
